DISARMAMENT PROPOSAL IS MEETING WITH POWERS' FAVOR

Harding's Ideas Are Having Cordial Reception Say the Late Reports

BIG ONES AT WORK PREPARING REPLIES

American Ambassador Confers With Curzon Today Regarding the Matter

(International News Service)
PARIS, FRANCE, July 11.—France will undoubtedly welcome a foreign conference regarding disarmament it was announced in a telegram to President Harding today.

President Harding's proposal for disarmament has been cordially received in Great Britain and it is thought that Great Britain will accept.

The American Ambassador George Harvey conferred with Marquis Curzon regarding the proposal today.

Premier Lloyd George was understood to have been occupied most of the morning preparing a reply accepting President Harding's proposal and if a conference is held in Washington it is thought that Lloyd George will be the representative from Great Britain.

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 11.—Premier Lloyd George in addressing the House of Commons today pledged the support of the British Empire to President Harding's effort to obtain a conference regarding a plan of disarmament and a great international conference to discuss the Far East question.

"I welcome with the utmost pleasure President Harding's proposal. The world has been looking forward to the United States to take such a lead. We wish it success and no effort will be lacking to make it so on the part of the British Empire which has shared a liberal and progressive and liberal part in inspiring it," said Lloyd George.

ENDORSES DISARMAMENT.
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Unqualified approval of the President's proposal for disarmament was expressed today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Consolidation of Power Companies

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—The appointment of S. S. Irelan, receiver of the Montgomery Light and Water Power Company, as receiver of the Montgomery Light and Water Power Company announced by Judge Henry D. Clayton of the federal court today is accepted as the beginning of the end of competition in the sale of power in Montgomery. Mr. Irelan, the former manager of the light and water power company until it went into the federal court for relief, will succeed Ray Rushton as receiver of the light and traction company, holding the receiverships of the two companies.

For many weeks reports of the consolidation of the two companies have been made and the public service commission in a recent hearing obtained admittance of the fact that negotiations were being carried on. Ray Rushton at that time said the subject of consolidation was being considered but he could not say when it would be accomplished.

Montgomery has had two electric companies for many years and during the war between them the city obtained a name throughout the country because of its well-lighted streets and its attractive electrical displays in the business section. When the consolidation is perfected both companies will pass into the hands of the interests associated with Henry L. Doherty of New York, who have owned the Montgomery Light and Water Power Company for many years.

Law Enforcement Men Claim "Too Little Booze Left"

(International News Service)
MOBILE, July 11.—Conrad W. Austin, chief law enforcement officer, is investigating the disappearance of four cases of whiskey from the police station here today.

Twelve cases of liquor were seized by W. H. Knox, one of Austin's men, and stored in his room. Police later went to his room and confiscated the liquor. Austin demanded it be returned and the chief of police agreed to do so. However only eight of the twelve cases were found when the inventory was taken Austin stated today.

Commission to Readjust Freight Rates in South

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—Proposed readjustments of freight rates from and to all points of the southern territory, including Alabama, and Ohio river crossings, St. Louis, Nashville, Memphis, Gulf ports, south Atlantic ports and eastern Virginia cities will be discussed at a conference at Atlanta between representatives of the carriers and southern railroad commissions and freight traffic bureau beginning Monday. Announcement was made today that the public service commission will be represented by President A. G. Patterson, and J. W. Kirtland, rate expert. The traffic department of the Montgomery chamber of commerce will be represented by M. M. Caskey.

The railroads propose in these readjustments to make advances and reductions in many of the rates in the class and commodity schedules.

Conrad Austin Goes to Mobile

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—Conrad W. Austin, chief of the state law enforcement department, went to Mobile Sunday night and on Monday will ask the Mobile circuit court to make arrangements for the trial at once of the four law enforcement officers who were indicted on charges of trespass, assault and battery and other minor charges Friday.

In announcing that he would go to Mobile, Chief Austin said he believed there should be an immediate trial of the men in order that the charges may be proved or disproved. "Since the allegations are made in an official report of the grand jury the law enforcement department feels that there should be a disposal of the charges without delay," said Chief Austin. "Citizens of Mobile are entitled to know whether or not there is sufficient evidence to substantiate the charges. The men who have been indicted certainly should be tried at once in order that they may continue their services for the state without true bills being held against them if the charges cannot be substantiated and in order that they may be relieved of their duties if the charges are substantiated by the testimony of reputable, law-abiding persons."

Chief Austin said he intended personally to make a thorough investigation of the charges and the acts of the officers which led up to the returning of the indictments. "I want to hear the statements of reputable law-abiding citizens of Mobile regarding this affair and regarding the activities of the members of this department while in Mobile county," Chief Austin concluded.

Court Convenes at Hartselle, July 25

The Morgan County Court, Hartselle division will convene at Hartselle on July 25 under Judge W. T. Lowe. Numerous cases on the criminal and civil dockets will be tried.

President Will Make Address Today

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Harding will probably deliver an address in person today regarding the Soldiers Bonus which was postponed from Friday when the house adjourned.

FLYERS WREAK HAVOC WITH BOMBING PLANE

Many Are Killed and Injured and by Government Bombing Plane

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, WEST VA., July 11.—With five dead and forty injured and one unknown man reported to have been cremated, in the smash of the government bombing plane when it went into a row of parked automobiles, an investigation was started here today.

Of the injured, seven are in a serious condition. Following the crash several witnesses stated that they saw a man pinned beneath the machine with gasoline slowly dripping upon him. Later portions of flesh and bone were found beneath the plane. The plane was bound from Cleveland to Washington and had remained at Moundsville from Saturday.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Although Secretary of War Weeks has not received an official report on the airplane accident at Moundsville, West Virginia, he stated that he thought the accident was the result of stunt flying. An order may be issued to stop Army flyers from flying over crowds.

Pardons and Paroles Given by Governor

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—Two pardons and eight paroles were granted by Governor Kilby yesterday in following the recommendation of the state board of pardons. Griffin Davidson of Walker county, who served two years for manslaughter and who completed the time in 1913, was given his civil and political rights again, it having been shown that he made a good citizen since the offense was committed.

Reverell Diamond of Covington county, who was convicted of manslaughter in 1917 and given four years and who was paroled in 1919, also was given a complete pardon. The state board of pardons and citizens and officials of Covington county joined in the request for the restoration of Diamond's rights.

Paroles were given to the following persons on the recommendation of the board of pardons: James Ware, Montgomery, manufacturing liquor; Judge Mallory, Montgomery, manufacturing liquor; Andrew Andrews, Greene, murder, fifty years; Asa Bullard, Mobile, burglary and grand larceny, two years; Wilson Pettus, Colbert, statutory offense; Joe Mitchell, Lee, distilling; Frank Hudson, Talladega, forgery, three cases, ten years.

In each case in which a parole was granted Governor Kilby expressed the opinion that justice had been done and sufficient punishment given and in this he was supported by the board of pardons.

Taft Now Chief Justice of Court

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Ex-President William Howard Taft became the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States today. The ceremony was devoid of all show and was conducted in the office of Attorney-General Dougherty.

MULES TAKE LAST IN FREE HITTING FRAY AS HURLERS FAIL TO BATTLE

Task of Keeping Flag at Home Grows Tough When Lead Lessens

LEE STARS IN FIELD WITH SPECTACULAR STAB

Diminutive Infielder Takes Things in Own Hands and Wins Bout

The Mules captured the last game of the Columbia series Saturday, for this half the local season when they defeated the Twins by a 5-4 count. The contest was a free for all in the hit line when each team gathered a total of twelve safeties, but it was not until the last half of the ninth that the Mules were able to take the verdict.

From all accounts reaching here it seems that too much Lee was the cause for the local failure. Lee was in every play and it was his ability that changed defeat to victory.

The count was a knot up to the ninth and the Twins decided it was necessary to put across a few to save the day and accordingly two men crawled aboard and waited for the blow that would bring them scamping across the plate. The blow came and they came across but the diminutive Lee happened to be in the wrong place. Lee raced into the left garden and pulled down a hard hoist that looked good for a halfway pass and held the Twins scoreless.

Not satisfied with this the self same Mr. Lee got on in the Mules half, swiped second and was sacrificed to third. He then broke for home with the needed tally to end the fray.

Manager McDuff was at his best to stave off the local defeat in the hit column but his four blows availed nothing against the mighty stick of "Red" Smith, Huxley and Flowe who each in his own way delivered a bump that issued a pass to the third sack. Smith also hit for two sacks.

Albany-Decatur had all the chances to score in the full nine innings but each time the hopes died on the cushions, the Twins having a total of ten men stranded for the afternoon.

Spitznagel went back to the short position and played a jam up game, not having a miscue credited to his average and with seven chances as a

TRIPLTS ARRIVE FOR BIG SERIES HERE, RAG AT STAKE

The final week in the pennant chase has arrived for the first half of the local season and it is a case of Albany-Decatur or Sheffield. Of course the Columbia Mules might be taken into consideration but their chances are awfully slim although they have a full week of baseball at home with Russellville clan. The last three games to be played at Russellville have been transferred to the Columbia lot on account of the scant admission fees received in the Miner's back yard.

Albany-Decatur leads Sheffield by three full games and a break here or there in the Twin series means that the Sheffield clan will grab the rag out of the fire. To capture the series at Albany-Decatur would mean that the Triplets have an excellent chance for the Twins lead will be cut down to one game and the next three frays be put on in the Tri-Cities precincts.

To prevent a bad start in the home section, Manager "Mac" will shove Moseley out in the title role for the opening encounter while it is not known what the Triplets will send out to oppose his offerings. Not having worked for four days "Mose" should have his best at his finger tips.

With the best of weather expected a record gathering in the stands will be on hand and the fans are ready to support the Twins to the limit. A large number of Sheffieldites are also reported to be on their way to help grab the long end of the count for their "white hopes."

Eastern Republic Asks U. S. Force Japan from Siberia

LARGEST CROWD HEAR BREWER ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Many Listen to Sermon, "The Sins of Saul and David," From Outside

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—An appeal to the United States by the Far Eastern Republic to compel the Japanese to withdraw their troops was made today. The Japanese troops have occupied Siberia since the ending of the world war.

The appeal was made through a note handed to the American consul at Peking. Similar notes were handed to Great Britain and China.

The note which was the word of M. Younin, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the China Republic accuses the Japanese of instigating the troops in Vladivostok to support the Bolshevik forces when the Anti-Bolshevik forces overthrew the government.

Mr. Brewer delivered an instructive and timely sermon on "The Sins of Saul and David," who were the first kings of Israel.

Saul's sin, it was shown, was one of presumption, doing his will instead of God's will, a description of which is given in I Sam. 15th chapter and therefore from man's viewpoint would not be so bad, but God rent the Kingdom from him and chose David, who God said, was a man after his own heart—not that David was an exact copy of God, or that he was perfect in the absolute, as that he never sinned on made mistakes, or that God winked at or condemns sin, but that in contrast with Saul, who had presumed to set at naught what God said and substitute his own will and way, David, though he stumble and made grievous and expensive mistakes, would honor God by doing his (God's) will and not his own.

David sinned though not as Saul, presumptuously, but his sin was an immoral one. He was King of Israel. Israel was at war with the Philistines, Joab was David's commander-in-Chief. Hiriade had answered the call of his country, was a soldier in his King's army. While he was away David ruined and wrecked his home, seduced his wife, Bathsheba, and when he was told by her that their son was coming to light, that he might hide his shame he ordered Joab to grant Uriah a furlough that he might come home but talk about patriotism, Uriah was a soldier and patriot, he refused to accept it (See II Sam 11:1-13).

Being foiled in this attempt, David ordered Joab to put Uriah in the front line and withdraw from that division so he would be slain. This was done and David was guilty of whole sale murder in order to kill Uriah. Just here it was stated, that so long as women could deceive and palm off on their husbands as his son, the son of another, as David and Bathsheba, sought to deceive Uriah, there would always be a double standard of morals and yet one is just as guilty as the other. David was convicted of his sin by Nathan the prophet (see II Sam. 12th chapter) He confessed his sin without excuse (II Sam. 12:13) and prayed God's forgiveness (Psa 51st chapter). God did not take the kingdom from him, for his sin was not one of presumption. God forgave his sin, but did not take away the consequences of it for "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap". David had sown and he reaped for God said the "sword shall never depart from his house." I will raise up evil against thee out of thine own house and I will take thy wives before thine eyes and give them to thy neighbor and he shall be with thy wives in the sight of this son for thou didst it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel and in the sight of this son. It was so for Amnon, David's son, seduced Tamar David's daughter, his half sister and thou, Absalom, David's son, killed Amnon, his half brother (II Sam 13th chapter).

Then Absalom fled, but through Joab is eventually recalled and proves a traitor to his own father, steals away the hearts of the people by his smooth and fair speech, conspires against his father and for a time drives David his father from Jerusalem and while David was a refugee, Absalom, his own son, committed adultery with his father's wives in the sight of all Israel II Sam. 16:20-23.

Thus God punished both for their sins but rejected Saul from being king of Israel.

DAVIDSON SPEAKS BEFORE BIG CROWD ON "RECLAMATION OF FALLEN SOULS"

Pastor Delivers Argument Regarding Indifference of Members

NEED OF DISCIPLINE REDUCES WORKERS

Only Twenty-Five Per Cent of Actual Strength of Church is Used

An unusually large congregation for the midsummer season heard Dr. C. C. Davidson yesterday morning, when he preached on the difficult problem, as to the status of indifferent church members. The speaker placed a large responsibility on such members, themselves as to what should be done. He advised that that scripture directions be followed implicitly, both by the church authorities and recalcitrant members, and concluded that if this was done a great revival was sure to break out in the churches. The minister appealed for "all church members to remember every day, to whose family they belonged and whose children they were, and to be governed accordingly." Speaking of a specific case of where a fallen woman of a certain church was reclaimed Dr. Davidson said:

The lesson is, as God forgives you so do ye. God abhors a spirit foreign to his own! His spirit is one of love and forgiveness. The minister told of a member of the choir of a large city church that fell and the deacons wanted to rise up and "save the honor of the church" the pastor said leave it to me.

One night a figure came from the rear of the building and fell weeping at the front bench. It was the unfortunate girl. The members of the choir filed down and kissed her and gave her a welcome back to her church and to her place of service. "Neither do I condemn thee go and sin no more."

Continuing the preacher said: "What a revival of real religion we'd have if all members who have committed sins would voluntarily come and confess and ask for forgiveness or for expulsion if the sin is gross or public and then on request be forgiven. Why all this? The answer is simple. The Bible, Jesus and Paul teach it. They know human nature and what is best for us and our growth and development in the Lord. Much embarrassment has been caused by ignoring these instructions of the Book.

"If the brother sinned against, refuses to go to the other, he disobeys the plain command of Jesus. But if one will not, let the other go and count it a privilege to suffer wrong if it be for Christ's sake. Then if any have been guilty of so called "moral" or gross or public sins let them come to the church and confess and request expulsion and then forgiveness and reinstatement."

General Outline of the Sermon.
The speaker defined a church as a local body of "Born-Again" individuals voluntarily associated together for reading the word, for worship, for fellowship, for the administering the ordinances and for the proper discipline of one another. These local bodies are the exponents, to the world, of God's truth. God's called out, "the ekklesia."

In the average church however only about 10 to 25 per cent of the members are active in the work and rightly interested in the progress of the work. The need of discipline.

It was explained that discipline is formative and corrective. As the former had been touched upon so often said the speaker that of teaching, and training and developing the Christian life the latter only would be referred to at this time.

Offenses, were, for convenience divided into two classes—private which are of one individual against another and which should be settled in private; and public offenses which are of two kinds—those against religion and morality; and those against the church. The former being for example, murder, drunkenness, profanity, lewdness, falsehood, theft, fornication, and such like; while those against the church are the renunciation of the teachings of the Bible, refusal to attend meetings, rebellion

Negro is Held in County Jail on Murder Charge

Gus Williams, black, is lodged in the Morgan County jail this morning charged with the killing of Oscar Jones, black, on Pond street ten days ago. Williams had been sought since the day of the murder and was captured this morning at 3 o'clock by Officers, Beasley, Lackey and Thompson. The cause of the shooting is not known.

President Scored in U. S. Senate

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Harding was attacked in the Senate today by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, for urging that the Senate defer the action on the Soldiers Bonus Bill.

"In his speeches during last year's campaign and when and after he assumed office the President pledged that there would be no undue executive interference with the legislative branch, and yet we find him coming to the capital and inducing Republican Senators to defer action on the Soldiers' Bonus Bill," Harrison stated.

VALUED CITIZEN DIES IN DECATUR; BAPTIST DEACON

Joseph W. Bailey aged 71 died this morning at his late home at 521 Ferry street and our cities loose one of its best and most valuable men. Active in commercial and church life, he was a man who will be sadly missed in this community, and leaves an heritage to those surviving more priceless than all else. Deceased is survived by his wife, five sons and one daughter, Messrs. Eugene, W. M. Fred, Dr. W. C. Bailey of the cities and Sid Bailey of Mobile and Mrs. B. P. Cartwright of Decatur. Mr. Bailey resided here about ten years, coming from Pleasant Hill, Ala., was a member of the Baptist church of which he was a life deacon. His health has been failing during the past year. Sid Bailey of Mobile arrives this evening.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence on Tuesday at 3 p. m. by Rev. C. C. Davidson, interment following at city cemetery.

Chief Executive Returns to Capital

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President and Mrs. Harding with a party of friends returned here today after spending the week-end in cruising the Potomac. They arrived at eight o'clock this morning.

Weather Man Says Good Things Ahead

Normal temperatures are indicated for the week. The weather will be generally fair, but with occasional local thundershowers. There are no indications at this time of a disturbance in the West Indies.

THE WORDS OF A POLICEMAN

Cornelia, the mother of the Gracchi, expressed the sentiment of all parents, when she said of her offspring "these are my jewels." Declaring that parents and the heads of families are not living up to their beliefs as to the value of the young, Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, the head of the police woman of the District of Columbia, and former President of the Woman's Equal Suffrage Association of the state of New Jersey argues that parents should exercise their 'veto' power over their children more; should aid the makers of amusements, more in their efforts to provide wholesome pastime, and should insist upon a larger knowledge of the standards as taught in Sunday school and church. Mrs. Van Winkle is a woman of high standing. She was formerly active in woman's clubs and social welfare effort. She dictated the statement attributed to her soon after her return to Washington from a Social Worker's Conference recently held in Detroit. Her first quoted reference refers to the fact that crime among adults in the city of Washington has decreased, but crime among the younger people has increased.

Mrs. Van Winkle does not speak as an ordinary reformer or merely as a well wisher of the human race. She speaks with the authority of knowledge, being the directing head of the police women of the District of Columbia and as one who knows the facts. She is a scientific student and her words should carry weight.

It would seem that Mrs. Van Winkle believes that parents are acting too much on the philosophy of a certain parent of a generation ago who said he believed that the best way to rear children was "to bell them and turn them loose."

Such a delicious freedom might have worked well when life was not going at such a high rate of speed, and when the pitfalls were perhaps less numerous than they are today.

As the enemies of the Vegetable kingdom have increased, as is shown in the case of the boll weevil, the brown beetle, and the numerous germs that attack the fruit trees, so it would seem that the enemies of those precious jewels, called the young people, have increased and the world must move forward, against such enemies if the stern command duty is to be obeyed.

ARMISTICE RELATIONS
MAY LEAD TO PERMANENT PEACE

The formal armistice between the crown forces of Great Britain, and the warring Sinn Fein government of Ireland went into effect at noon today, although fighting ceased, with rare exceptions, on Saturday, July 9th, when newspaper accounts told the world of the happy turn of events. Reports have it, that crown soldiers and Sinn Fein supporters openly fraternized on the streets of Dublin, and that General McReedy was cheered when he made his appearance. In England, it is stated that such scenes of enthusiastic joy were enacted upon the announcement of the truce, as rivaled those of armistice day of November 11th, 1918. Despite the evident satisfaction felt on all sides it is warned by conservative journals of both England and Ireland, that hope, only, rather than absolute faith, is what the lovers of peace have to base upon for a time—until the final terms of agreement are submitted. The age long hatred—to use perhaps, too strong a word, that has separated between the majority of Irishmen and their English neighbors has yet to be reckoned with. Things have gone from bad to worse for so long a period between these two peoples, that it will take a super-human effort to set them right again. The difficulties of the task before the peace makers, will remind the world once more, of how hard it is to get things right, once have been allowed to go wrong from generation to generation. The time is more opportune, now, however than it was something over a year ago. Then hatred and red handed vengeance were in control on the Emerald Isle. There was no talk of peace, for there was no peace. Now the sense of loss, after bitter fighting and thousands of deaths is making itself felt. A great heart burning and unbearable pain is bringing the warring factions together, as only trouble can do. Out of their extreme needs, Loyalist and Sinn Feiner may reasonably be expected to fashion an agreement that will prove acceptable to all concerned. It will be a fitting end of the reign of war-fare and of force on the earth—a thing America fought so valiantly for in the great war—if indeed, the differences between England and Ireland, can be settled soon and without the firing of another gun or the death of another human being. If peace does come—and every friend of both the English and the Irish should desire it and pray for it—a new day of hope and promise will dawn for our sorely stricken world. If peace relations are established, following the present truce between our kindred across the seas, despite the many disappointments of the lovers of peace, they may again look with confidence to a time, when all warfare will be abandoned, when the drum shall throb no longer "and the battle flags are furled."

THE PASSING OF THE HEROES OF THE GRAY

Last Friday morning I was in town bright and early, and about the first man I saw was an old Confederate veteran, from then on until the noon hour they kept coming in, I wondered that so many of them were coming in at the same time, but after a little, I thought about it being the day that they receive their checks from the State, the thing that lets them know that the State of Alabama still remembers and appreciates their valiant and glorious struggle for a cause they deemed right, some three score years ago.

I watched them as they came into town, some alone, some with their sons or friends, others with their old comrades in arms. Then my eyes followed them as they went to the courthouse for their checks, then to the bank where they were paid the cash for them. I noticed the sparkle in the eyes as one would meet an old friend, almost invariably they would be joking each other, even as they did in the sixties past. One thing in particular I noticed, there were several of them together, standing in the bank, awaiting their turn at the paying tellers window, another of the old heroes came in, and somebody in the crowd shouted to him, "Hello there Bill, you old 'Red,'" he answered by saying, "Hello there, yes, I am an old Red, and I am proud that I am."

Yes, and they have a right to be proud of it. Tho' they fought for a lost cause, as history terms it, yet from the depths of the heart of each of them fought for what they thought was the right and they can well be proud of it.

And they almost invariably asked the man at the window what he charged for cashing their checks, and when he replied that no charges was made on checks of that kind, they seemed to appreciate it so much, and could not thank him enough for his kindness. When the last of one crowd had passed out the door, and as he still stood at the window waiting for some other who were turning in from the street, the man at the window turned to me and remarked, "I wish I were paying teller in some big bank where they were coming in all along." Then others came in and he didn't finish what he was saying, but that was enough, that I knew he got lots of genuine pleasure in serving those who saw and did so much service a long time before he or I were born.

The brave old heroes are passing away. July first, 1920 many more of their checks were cashed than July first this year, but even tho' their bodies may all be dead within the next few years, yet their spirits, their influence, and the memories of love for them and their heroic principles will live for centuries to come.—Moulton Advertiser.

Free speech is alright, so long as it is not the kind indulged in by George Harvey.

If peace can be bought—judging from this country's expensive naval program, we are willing to buy it at any price.

Germany may not have won the war, but she did win a lot of undesirable sympathizers to her side.

If this nation had made as big a mess of the war as it has making peace, the Hindenburg line would never have been broken; and the war would still be in progress.

The large number of suicides in the last few years has been attributed to the war, the war in the home of course.

The election of Warren G. Harding, will eventually prove out as still another case of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

If the proximity of the river to the Columbia ball park was ever considered an asset, in the future, umpires who cannot swim will not be expected to think so.

It is a good thing to promise to do right in the future, whether you have done the opposite in the past or not.

If the Republicans had thought about "splendid isolation" leading to possible business isolation, possibly they would have acted differently.

Dodging automobiles is declared to be good for people, because of the vigorous exercise involved; but be sure you do not dodge into the machine.

No wonder England is favoring disarmament at this time, with so many wars and near wars on her hands.

Vail Awards Go
First to Alabama

ATLANTA, GA., July 11.—(Special)—Alabama is conspicuously represented in the award of the Theodore N. Vail medal to employees of the Bell Telephone System who performed unusual acts of service during the past year. The announcement of awards to six telephone workers in the south is made in the current issue of Southern Telephone News.

Miss Golden Gladys Green and Miss Lucy Mooney, operators of the Southern Bell Company at Jasper, Ala., have both been awarded the Vail medal and a citation for "devoted and heroic service to the public in the face of great danger while on duty as telephone operators."

These young ladies were on duty at Jasper, Ala., during the early morning hours last December when the town was swept by a disastrous fire.

They rendered conspicuous service by arousing the community and sending calls of warning and for assistance. They remained at work until ordered from the burning building by the firemen.

Four other telephone workers in the South have been awarded this coveted medal. They are:

Cornelius Howard Dillingham, manager of the Southern Bell Company at Lake City, Fla., "for a courageous attempt to save the life of a fellow worker."

Ernest Galloway, toll section lineman, and Thomas Clark, toll section lineman's helper, of the Cumberland Telephone Company, "for unusual devotion to duty in restoring long distance service in the state of Tennessee, by overcoming many obstacles and hardships."

Benjamin Franklin McMahan, inspector repairman of the Cumberland Telephone Company, Winchester, Ky., "for saving the life of a fellow worker through prompt and efficient action."

The Theodore N. Vail memorial fund which supplies the medals and other awards for conspicuous and noteworthy public service by Bell telephone employees, was established to commemorate and perpetuate the ideals of public service as exemplified by the life and teachings of the late Theodore N. Vail in directing the affairs of the Bell System.

It was Mr. Vail's wish always to recognize and commend in some public and permanent manner the devotion to duty and heroic readiness of Bell telephone employees to disregard their own comfort and safety in the face of emergencies.

The Vail medals accomplish this and give an added incentive to those who hold service above self.

against the authority of the church, and an attempt to make divisions or concessions.

Treatment of offenders. Matt. 18: 15 gives instructions for the treatment of private offenses. "If thy brother trespass against thee," first go to him and tell or show him his fault between thee and him alone. If he will not hear thee take one or two brethren, if he will not hear them tell it to the church, if he will not hear the church, the offense then becomes public and the offender should be expelled.

Public offenses. See I Cor. 5 and 6, 9-11. I Cor. 5:12. "Put away from among you that wicked person"

If a member say, has been guilty of gross sin he should come or be induced to come of his or her own accord to the church to make confession and to ask for expulsion. The world in Paul's letter indicates immediate and complete action.

McCLINTOCK-HICKS

A wedding which took place at 8:30 p. m. at the Webster Hotel, Chicago, on July 6, which will be of interest to Twin City friends, was that of Miss Marie Hicks and J. Harrell McClintock.

The wedding took place in the Tapestry Room. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter C. Scott of the Sheridan Methodist church, the ring ceremony being used. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Grimes, Mr. H. J. Popperfuss of Chicago, Miss Nan Keyes of Corsicana, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wassell of New York City.

Immediately following the ceremony, in a private dining room of the hotel, a beautiful dinner was served to the bridal party. The centerpiece for the table was of Killarney roses and at each place was an individual decoration of roses. The favors were dolls dressed as bride, groom, and attendants. Rose cups at each place were filled with salted almonds. Individual cakes with "H. McC." were used as place cards.

Miss Marie Hicks is a sister of Mrs. Joe Pettet and was formerly a teacher in Decatur schools.

MR. AND MRS. J. T. JONES HOSTS AT OUTING

One of the most delightful affairs of the season was the private excursion given Friday, July 8th by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, honoring their house guests. Mrs. Hunter Myatt, and daughter, Elizabeth, of Americus, Texas, Mr. W. E. Booker of West Point, Ga., Mrs. Henry Matton, of Bainbridge, Ga., and Mrs. R. E. Oliver, and daughter Caroline, of West Palm Beach, Fla. The boat Huvassa was chartered for the day, leaving at 8 o'clock in the morning and returning home about 8:30 p. m., the party sailed down the river to Finley Island, where a barbecue dinner together with fried chicken and all that goes with it awaited them. Music, Rook, fishing and bathing were enjoyed during the day. Those participating were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Crawford and son, Judge and Mrs. Lowe, Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Hamill, Mr. and Mrs. McMath, and guest, Mrs. Williams and daughter—Flo, of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fussell, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones Jr., and baby, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Polhill, and daughter Frances, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones and baby, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Will Kimbrough, of Hartselle.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Minor and daughter, Louise of Elreno, Okla., are the guests of relatives in Albany, Hartselle and other points in around Morgan county.

Misses Maud and Katherine Clary of Augusta, Ga., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cassels.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Draper have returned from a week-end visit with relatives at Danville.

Mrs. R. T. Sheppard is the guest of relatives at Gadsden.

Mrs. T. B. Hendley and son, Ted, will arrive in Albany Thursday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shelton. Mrs. Hendley will be joined here shortly by her husband, Lieut. Hendley, U. S. N.

Mrs. Wheatley Davis and children of Winston-Salem N. C., are the guests of Mrs. Davis' parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whyte.

Misses Joe Marilyn Walker, of Nashville, and Dorothy Keelan, of Atlanta, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker.

Mrs. Frank Cook and family arrived home yesterday from a several weeks stay at Mount Pleasant, Tenn.

The team of horses became frightened while the party was on their way to a fish-fry. Swain's body was so entwined in the wheel that the wheel had to be removed to extricate the body.

Life's "Fits" and "Mists."
Many would have to do a bit of thinking before they replied to the question at the head of this paragraph. Yet the answer can be easily found. It depends on whether you are a "fit" or a "mist" in life, remarks a writer in London Answers.

Each of us has certain gifts and qualities which were intended to fit us into the scheme of life, so that we might live happily, contentedly and profitably, and by justifying our existence be glad that we were born. But if we have misused our niche, been pushed into the wrong one, or persist in putting ourselves into the wrong one, then we can't be really glad that we were born.

The mist in life might as well have missed life. The mist is one who doesn't know what his gift is, or, knowing, doesn't use it. Many, too, persist in trying to live, literally, on a half or quarter gift, instead of using their talents to the full.

king and perpetuated David's throne and raised up Choist of David's loins to sit on it (Acts 2:30) and he is on David's throne now.

Thus from God's view point, for he sees not seeth, for man looks on outward appearance but God looks on the heart—the man clad in priestly robes may be a worse man, by presuming to change God's law by teaching and practicing things which God has taught, and by perverting and changing things he has taught, than the man who visits the grave, yet one is respected, the other abhorred.

The woman who, presumes to over ride God's plans, positive, emphatic, and unmistakable law, by preaching (I Cor. 14:33-36; I Tim. 2:11-15) may in God's sight be a worse woman than the barlot.

Mr. Brewer will preach at the shops today and tonight and Tuesday night at the tent on "The Work of the Holy Spirit in the conviction and conversion of sinners."

The meeting will continue to the last of the week.

THE HOOKER OAK

IN BEAUTIFUL 2,800-acre Bidwell Park which, by the way, is one of the largest natural wooded parks in the country, in the little city of Chico, California—some 180 miles northeast of San Francisco, there is a giant white-oak tree which is believed to be the largest of its kind in the world.

This ponderous monarch of the forest was named after Sir Joseph Hooker, the noted English naturalist, who, in 1877, after a close examination and considerable study, pronounced it to be larger than any of the wondrous oaks for which England was famed.

This great tree is more than 100 feet high and its circumference eight feet above the ground is 28 4-10th feet. Its longest branch extends away from the trunk for 105 feet. From north to south its branches spread an even 200 feet. The greatest circumference of its outside branches reaches the astonishing figure of almost 400 feet.

Students of freedom from near and far have come and tried every means known to science to coax this massive oak to whisper the secret of its tremendous size and unusual age, but it merely waves its branches in the gentle breeze and seems to laugh at them. So, the best they can do is to estimate its age. The consensus of opinion is that it has been on earth well nigh 1,000 years.

General William Tecumseh Sherman, of Civil war fame, gave it as his opinion that an army of 7,000 men could stand within its shade at high noon.

TRIPLETS COP.

SHEFFIELD, July 11.—Sheffield was forced to go twelve innings to get a decision from Russellville here Saturday. Mott was doing box duty for the Miners and was opposed by Trotter for the Triplets. The honors were even along the hit line.

Mott hurled in great style only to have victory snatched from him when his support cracked in the twelfth and he one punch needed to win was put across on a pair of errors. Sheffield gave Trotter brilliant support all the way through.

Bickley gathered half the Miners' hits, having three to his credit for the afternoon's work. Cochran leading he circuits hitters failed to connect for his four trips up.

Decrease Cotton Increase Corn

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—Farmers of Alabama have decreased their cotton acreage thirty per cent and increased their corn acreage eleven per cent and have increased their total crop acreage six per cent, according to an estimate of the Alabama co-operative crop reporting service made public, following confirmation from the Washington office of the bureau of markets and crop estimates Saturday afternoon. This estimate shows that the total crop acreage this year is 13,887,000 compared with a total acreage last year of 12,987,000.

Corn leads all other crops in the total acreage, the estimate showing 4,758,000 acres compared with 4,277,000 acres last year. The cotton acreage this year is 2,029,000 compared with 2,891,000 last year. Peanuts and wheat are the only crops except cotton which show a decrease in acreage this year. Peanuts are taking 463,000 acres this year compared with 477,000 acres last year, while the wheat acreage this year is 52,000 compared with 68,000 last year. But the interplanted acreage in peanuts this year (peanuts planted with other crops) is nineteen per cent greater this year than last, the interplanted acreage this year being 410,000 compared with 364,000 last year.

In announcing the estimates for this year, the co-operative crop reporting service said its information had been obtained from 2,100 farmers and 400 regular crop reporters, representing all counties and all types of farmer.

Social Circle of Mobile in Furor

(International News Service)
MOBILE, July 11.—When a number of prominent citizens, members of the thesleian club appeared in the inferior court this morning for hearing on a charge of gambling, they waived examination, and the matter went over to the next Grand Jury. The raiding of the club and the arrests caused a furor in Mobile circles.

Injunction Issued Against Collectors

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 11.—W. M. Bailey, tax payer of Coffee county, has obtained an injunction preventing the collection of any taxes in Coffee county until the circuit court has passed upon the validity of the new tax records of that county which replaced the ones stolen, according to a report made to the state tax commission today by Henry C. Allen, field agent of the tax commission, who returned from Coffee county.

Mr. Bailey, acting as a tax payer, contended that the records now in use are not the official records of tax assessments of Coffee county and that they cannot be used in the assessment and collection of taxes. He was given a temporary injunction which prevents the tax assessor and collector and tax adjuster from enforcing the tax laws by collecting taxes until the court has passed upon the issue. Judge A. B. Foster is not in his circuit now and the case cannot be considered until he has returned.

Revered Woman Sinks to Rest

Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith, aged 100 years, one month and 23 days, died on Friday, from causes incident to old age, at her home north of Hartselle. Deceased was a devout member of the Methodist church and goes to her reward following an exemplary life, endeared to all who had the privilege of her acquaintance. She is survived by three sons, B. F. Griffith, Matt Griffith of Albany, and D. V. Griffith of Morgan county, and one daughter Mrs. Malinda Fletcher who resided with her mother, beside these fifty-two grand children and fifty-two great grand children survive her. Funeral was conducted on Sunday at Johnston Chapel near Danville, many attending the last sad rites.

As a result of more open-air sports British women are developing larger waists and flatter chests.

Piano Excitement Runs High

GREAT CUT IN PRICES AND EASY PAYMENTS ATTRACT MANY BUYERS

Opening Day of Big Introductory Sale Proves Big Success. On Every Hand You Hear It Said: How Can They Do It?

One Week To Make Up Your Mind To Own a Fine Piano Cheaper Than You Will Have An Opportunity In Some Time to Come If Ever

Kelley & Hauk's---This Week Only

HERE IS $650

Some home in 20 is going to have given to them one of three of the very finest pianos made. No piano merchant ever offered such a prize before in the history of your state. Aside from this opportunity think of saving $125 to $230 on a Piano or Player Piano. If you ever think of buying a Piano of any make and don't take advantage NOW—you are not a trader—you don't grasp a business proposition.

WANTED 20 BUYERS

It only takes 20 buyers to fill the club—Reduced prices and the free $650 fine Shoninger Piano go only to the first 20 buyers—Then back go the prices to our national fixed retail prices. You not only save with 19 of your neighbors $125 to $230 on the instrument you select, but have an equal show of any member to the clubs of securing the $650 piano free.

CROWDS ATTEND SATURDAY

Lookers and buyers literally poured into our store Saturday, the first day. The mail brought a score of enquiries from out of town folks for particulars about the big sale. Three homes took advantage of the big saving offered and we predict that before Saturday the club of 20 will be complete.

YOU MUST HURRY

Time is the only string tied on to this Big Sale—If you wish the chance to drive a bargain in a piano purchase that comes to you once in a life time, you must act quickly—always the chap who has trained himself to act quickly is the man who has made success in life. The fellow who puts off, afraid to take a chance awaits and kill time when quick action is necessary always loses in the end. Shakespeare never uttered a more severe truth when he wrote that "Procrastination was the Thief of Time."

PIANOS OF QUALITY

No store in your state offers you any better makes. Few have arrayed for your selection a more representing selection of fine pianos than Shoninger, Starr, Remington and Tracer pianos and player pianos. Pianos that have stood the test of time. Some of them bought by your father's father. A piano and a price to suit any customer. Any make or style we sell are applicable to the conditions of this sale. Its a life time satisfaction to own any piano we sell. Make your selection today.
